Ann Scolnick

“Views From The Lens”

January 9 – February 21st 2010

Ann Scolnick, a long time resident of Huntington has been taking photographs for over 40 years. She studied at the Doscher School of Photography and has attended the Maine Photographic Workshops. Her images have been on display at the Heckscher Museum, the Teachers Federal Credit Union, the Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Huntington, and the Gallery at Cold Spring Harbor High School where she was a teacher for over 30 years.

“To me a photograph is a spiritual statement of a specific moment in time and space. One looks, records a microcosm of our vast world, and hopes through that picture, to command, not only a visual image, but draw the viewer into that time and space through a recollection of other senses: the feel of the dew on the grass or the scent of a flower, the sound of a leaf in the gentle wind or the stillness of a meadow, the texture of wood, stone or metal, or the taste of a mushroom or salt water. The order in the universe is everywhere and a photograph can capture that feeling”.
